

WEEKLY ARIZONA MINER: PRESCOTT, OCTOBER 12, 1872.

The Miner.
Prescott, Arizona.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

Thursday evening last, there assembled at the residence of H. A. Bignell a goodly number of the "youthful" choir of Prescott, all bent on inaugurating a plan whereby the citizens of Prescott would be treated to an afternoon's performance by the justly celebrated band of the 23d Infantry, and by which performance, the leader and members of said band might make a little cash, to recompense them for time spent in giving us a treat.

A "meeting" was organized by electing Capt. J. P. Hargrave, President, and ourself Secretary. The object of the meeting was then explained by Capt. Hargrave, after which motions were put and carried, which have brought out the following correspondence.

PRESCOTT, Oct. 6, 1872.
MR. JOHN LEIDNER, Band Master 23d Infantry,
Dear Sir:—In appreciation of the delightful music your band has discoursed for us, a meeting of the citizens of this place was called this evening, and it was unanimously voted to tender you a benefit concert to be given in this town at any time that suits your convenience.

L. B. JEWELL, Chairman Committee.

FORT WHIPPLE, Oct. 9, 1872.

MR. L. B. JEWELL, Chairman of Committee of Citizens of Prescott.

SIR:—Four notes, offering us a benefit concert, is received and, in reply, I will say that we will avail ourselves of your generosity on next Tuesday evening, October 15. Many thanks for your kindness.

JOHN LEIDNER,
Chief Musician, 23d U. S. Infantry.

Soon after the close of the concert, dancing will be indulged in to the music of the band, and during the evening, luncheon will be served.

The programme for the concert, together with the price of single tickets for concert and hop, is printed under the head—"New Advertisements."

This programme, it will be seen, is composed of choice selections, and cannot fail to give pretty general satisfaction. It, therefore, rests with our people—civil and military—to do their part by Mr. Leidner and his musical family.

Another Man Shot and Killed.

Sunday morning last, between the hours of seven and eight o'clock, citizens residing in the northern portion of Prescott, heard the report of a shot, coming from the direction of John Koch's ranch, which is situated on the eastern border of the village, and after a lapse of fifteen or twenty minutes, Mrs. Koch was observed coming over the hill, toward town. To the first person she met she told her husband had been shot, by a Mexican. Immediately thereafter Judge Fleury summoned and got together a jury, the members of which found Koch lying dead in the bedroom, from the effects of a wound made by a pistol ball, which had entered his shoulder and passed downward, lodging in the region of the heart.

The Mexican was gone and all that could be learned from Mrs. Koch was that her husband, herelf and the Mexican had been drinking freely, and that, after a sudden quarrel, the Mexican commenced firing at her husband, and she rushed in from the kitchen and tried to stop the Mexican from killing her husband, but failed, and he killed her husband, taking with him two guns and two pistols.

Sheriff Behan and his deputies scoured the hills, in search of the alleged murderer, but failed to find him. His name is Jesus Nervus, or Nervus. He has resided here for several years past, and has had a bad reputation.

It is a little singular that the arrival of the woman from Sonora, Mexico, in 1864 or 5, three years before her husband's death, was, according to her own statement, at Black Canyon; A. G. Dunn, an American, and John Koch (the last victim) a German, in Prescott.

It is, of course, the earnest desire of all good citizens that the Mexican may be caught, and the mystery cleared up.

Land Owners.

The following persons came up from the Gila last week, proved their titles and paid cash for land as follows:

Granville West, 160 acres; Smith R. Turner, 160 acres; Cyrus B. Rice, 160 acres; Mateo Salazar, 160 acres; Thomas C. Irwin, 160 acres; Martin S. Wilson, 160 acres; Patrick Holland, 160 acres; Mrs. Pallas Ewing, widow of the late Thomas Ewing, 160 acres; Alvaro Valencia, 160 acres.

Most of said land has been cultivated for years past by the thirty owners thereof.

Freight Train.

S. C. Miller & Co., have three large freight trains on the road, one under B. A. Hussey, has gone to Ehrenberg, as has also another—Jake Miller's train.

Tom Miller, with the ox-train, is loading flour at Salt River.

Two teams were killed early in the week, from Kernberg, while freight for several citizens.

Indian Visitors.

Some ten or twelve Indians mounted on horses and calling themselves Navajos, have been in town this week, loading blankets and picking up old clothes. It is said they have passed from the Indian agent at Fort Defiance. Our citizens will see nothing by watching them closely. They pay no attention to the Apaches.

Troops From Apache.

Colonel W. Stone and a company of the 1st Cavalry arrived here recently from Camp Apache, and for some locality in the Department of Columbia, where there is nothing for them to do.

Purely Accidental.

Perkins recently from Bowers' Agua Fria ranch, says that the shooting of George Becker was purely accidental, and that the story that he deliberately took his own life was altogether unwarranted.

Thanks to Mr. and Mrs. J. Marks, ex-Governor McCormick and our humble self, the satisfaction of getting upon rock and rare vines, at their hospitable table, on Saturday afternoon last, and, as Colonel Cheney would say, "It was a feast fit for the gods."

Al. Seiber, who was recently hurt by a bucking horse, is recovering. Dr. McCandless went out to Camp Lowell and helped Al.

Jack Leander, who was recently crippled by the Apaches, has opened a saloon, next door to "The Miner," where he has liquors, cigars, etc., for sale.

FROM WILLIAMSON VALLEY.

John Kimler's Party—Crops, Etc.

Our Williamson Valley correspondent—"Senator,"—sends the following under date of October 6th:

On the evening of September 20th, Mr. John Kimler gave, in honor of Miss Ada Douglas' thirtieth birthday, a cotillion party to his numerous friends and acquaintances, which will long be remembered as one of the most happy events that good fortune led them to attend in the valley. Several ladies and gentlemen from Chino Valley, Prescott and other places, honored the occasion with their presence. Dancing was kept up till near midnight, when a most excellent supper was served up by the estimable hostess, Mrs. Douglas, through whose graciousness the enjoyment of the occasion was mainly due. Nothing transpired to mar the peace and harmony of those present. Taking all in all, it was a grand success, and all went home feeling that it was good to be there.

Harvesting.

Harvesting is now in full blast. There are five mowing machines running from dawn till dark, making every effort to get their hay cut and securely stacked while the calm, dry weather lasts. Corn is about all cut up, and they are making preparations to dig and house their potatoes and other vegetables.

Trains are passing almost daily conveying forage and commissary supplies for Camp Huachuca and Whipple, which gives to this place a lively appearance.

From Beaver Creek and the Verde.

Thomas Cordis returned home last week, from visiting friends on Beaver Creek and the Rio Verde, and is delighted with the treatment he received, the country, crops, etc. On Beaver Creek, Wales Arnold raised this year, 80 acres of corn, 10 acres of alfalfa and some other produce. A French gentleman whose name we do not find on our subscription book, and which Mr. C. has forgotten, has 35 acres of corn. Robert Bell has 60 acres of corn, and Peter Arnold about 50 acres of the same. All have potatoes and vegetables. There is plenty of land yet open to pre-emptors and an abundant supply of water for irrigating purposes.

The Ranches on the Verde.

Were visited by Mr. C. but he forgot to get an account of the number of acres of corn, etc., raised by the rancheros. M. K. Lery gave him several ears of corn to show us; we have looked at them, and congratulate friend Lery on his success in making the soil produce so well.

The beauty of the Verde and Beaver Valley struck Mr. Cordis who says the soil, climate, etc., are such as will enable thrifty farmers to make big crops, much money and beautiful homes.

The Indians.

Were at their old tricks, shooting at people, stealing stock and corn, yet Mrs. Arnold, the only white lady on Beaver Creek—kept up a stout heart and was firm in the faith that General Crook would soon undo all the mischief which Vincent Colyer has done.

Personal.

Lieutenant A. B. Bache, Fifth Cavalry, has gone East to recruit his health. He took a leading part in the recent fight with our pestiferous savage foes, on the Santa Maria.

Colonel D. J. Marr, of Governor Safford's staff, and George Heitzman were in town Monday last, from the Agua Fria Valley, where they have raised a fair crop of corn.

Col. Edward Cady made his appearance in our town early Tuesday morning last, looking as good-natured, bright and active as a young man of 20, after his lengthy residence at San Francisco. He comes prepared to prospect one of his mines.

Lieutenant E. R. Theller, 21st Infantry, and his wife, have gone to Oregon. The Lieutenant was a favorite with our people.

Jas. C. Beatty, who has the contract for supplying Camp Verde with hay, is here on business. We have heard him relate how, soon after the Indians left late December recently, he found a little Indian boy, which had been abandoned by his inhuman parents. This boy, Mr. Beatty carried to his house, washed, clothed, fed and otherwise took care of it until a few days ago, when the local Indian Agent took charge of the little fellow.

Ex-Governor McCormick, candidate for re-election to Congress, and Dr. Bendell, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, started Monday last, for Southern Arizona.

Mrs. Crook, wife of the General, and other ladies and gentlemen of Fort Whipple, are at Camp Huachuca on a visit.

M. Wormser, of this town, was at Chicago Sept. 16, on his way to Philadelphia.

Tough Old Chicken.

Night-watchman Jennings and scores of other practical jokers are and have been crowing over Joe Crane, of the Diana Saloon, on account of a practical joke which Jennings has just played upon Joe, who, as most citizens of Prescott know, loves to regale his appetite with the choicest dainties. It occurred in this wise: Joe was too busy to hunt up a "spring" chicken for breakfast; Jennings volunteered to attend to the matter for him, and induced Theodore Otto to go up to the slaughter house and kill a couple of crows; Otto did as requested, when Jennings and Layton took charge of the birds, plucked and prepared them for Joe's breakfast.

Time came and Joe's vision was pleased with the appearance of the nicely cooked "caws." He smacked his lips and invited a friend to partake of the feast; the friend was slow to "pitch in;" Joe wasn't; for, taking hold of a wing, he tugged and tugged at it, until its toughness and smell satisfied him that all was not right. Looking around, smiles were discovered on several countenances and Crane adjourned to the saloon, minus his breakfast; to be joined by his friends, who still keep on lecturing him about the foolishness of Crane attempting to eat crow.

Good for Gas.

Mr. W. J. Bryden, foreman of Campbell & Butum's tin-shop, Montezuma street, has been testing some of the coal which N. P. Pierce, J. W. Johnson and other citizens recently brought here from the Little Colorado, and informs us that it is the best of cannon coal, good in a forge and the best quality for making gas. So we have near home, and close to the proposed line of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, a coal field of no small area.

Gone on a Prospect.

If we are not greatly mistaken, D. C. Moreland, Jos. Fuget and George Hogle—three first-rate men and prospectors—have gone on a prospect in the vicinity of the Santa Maria.

B. Sexton, of the Valente Mine, Wickenburg, will please accept our thanks for several copies of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, and Hartford (Conn.) Times, two leading New England papers, of the Conservative stripe.

THE WEATHER.

The last of our summer rains fell here September 5, since which date we have had dry, pleasant weather, save a very few days which were cool and windy. The table published below gives the rainfall, force of wind, temperature, etc., for September. Ex-Governor McCormick, who, for several years past, has resided at Washington and New York, said, previous to taking his departure for Southern Arizona, a few days ago, that our climate of Prescott and vicinity, and indeed of the entire Territory, would be worth millions of money to any Atlantic State, it is so bracing, so healthy, and so enjoyable.

Explanatory.

Owing to a mistake made by a hurried, over-worked printer in last week's MINER, it has come to our ears that one or two persons—subscribers to this paper—have got their backs up, because of said mistake, which, while it may have annoyed them has also annoyed us, perhaps a great deal more. Now, as "accidents happen in the best regulated families," so do errors, mistakes and omissions happen in the best regulated newspaper offices, and if people unacquainted with the amount of labor, etc., a single individual who has sole charge of a newspaper and job-printing office has to perform and see to, they would not be so free to find fault with, and growl at, every little vexatious blunder or oversight that may have escaped the editor's vision, or that may, (in the hurry of preparing the paper for press), have been overlooked by the printers, in correcting proof.

Again, if they but knew how very little profit we make by furnishing them the MINER for seven dollars a year, they would, we think, feel ashamed of themselves for having even indulged a thought of stopping their paper, for while the patronage of subscribers helps, greatly, to meet the enormous expense of publishing such a paper as this is, in so dear a country, said patronage would merely lead us to ruin and bankruptcy, in a short time, although we are proud to be able to say that the MINER has a larger paying circulation than any other one-horse country paper on the Pacific coast.

Finally, we beg to inform everybody that now, as ever, our intention is to deal fairly, squarely and honorably with every lady, gentleman and question we may have to speak of in these columns; to correct mistakes whenever made; but not to be frightened into doing anything by the threat or threats of withdrawal of patronage, for we would rather be a link, lean, hungry coyote than a fat, well-to-do, subservient ox, to be driven around by every simpleton who could pin a yoke on us and gee-haw us in every direction.

Diamond Hunters.

G. W. Fox and P. P. Cunningham arrived here recently, from San Francisco, purchased animals, provisions, etc., and left, "in a mysterious way," for the diamond fields.

Mr. Fox has been there before. Mr. Cunningham is an old Arizonan, formerly of Turkey Creek District, in this country. Being very well acquainted with the latter gentleman, owing to having formerly prospected with him, when beans were the only luxury to be had in this section, we pried open the secret recesses of his knowledge box and learned that he believed in the diamonds and thought himself and partner would soon be helping themselves to precious stones.

His secret, which we have no desire to keep (and couldn't if we tried) is that, while Mr. Fox was here a year or two ago, he found some stones in the vicinity of Fort Defiance, which he now thinks were diamonds. That's all.

At San Bernardino.

D. Henderson, of this place, was at San Bernardino, California, October 2, on his way to San Francisco, to purchase more goods for his house here, which is already "full to the brim," and is being run to perfection by A. Henderson and W. N. Kelley.

Bound for Tucson.

Mr. Moore, Master of Transportation for the Army of Arizona, and Mr. Bromley, clerk for Field Quartermaster Ross, started Monday last for Tucson.

Brick-Lime—Adobes.

Our christian friend, T. H. Head, has purchased Mr. Simmons' lime-kiln, and has a gang of men at work burning lime.

Some Mexicans are making adobes for Wormser & Wertheimer's proposed new house.

More Relics.

Mr. Banghart has again supplied us with a box full of pre-historic tools, utensils, bones, food, etc., which he recently excavated from ruins near his place in Chino Valley, 25 miles north of Prescott. They can be seen at this office.

The 23d Infantry Band will play the following selections this (Saturday) afternoon:

1. Quick step, "The Warrior's Return."
 2. The Bell Polka—Labitzky.
 3. Selection from La Grande Duchesse—Offenbach.
 4. The Comco Quadrille—D'Albert.
 5. Chorus, from La Traviata—Verdi.
 6. Ballad, O give me but my Arab Steed—Lambert.
 7. Spring Waltz—Melling.
 8. Galop from Il Poluto—Helmshuller.
- JOHN LEIDNER, Chief Musician.

We have been requested to state that the skill shown by Drs. McCandless and Semig, in treating a recent case, and the attention shown by Dr. McC., will not soon be forgotten.

Geo. W. Hance has purchased almost all the corn on the Verde River and Beaver Creek, for C. P. Head & Co., at the rate of 7 cents per pound cash.

Seven passengers left by stage last Saturday morning, for various points. Among them were C. H. Vail, James Grant, Morris Lindsey, and C. H. Vail, James Grant, and two other passengers left by mail wagon Wednesday last.

C. P. Head & Co. have recently received an assortment of new goods.
